Joe: I've attached the list of complaints made to the CFPB regarding Experian for the past year. After a quick glance, there appear to be approximately 3,000 here. Therefore, as a compromise, we would accept the documents related to CFPB complaints for this period only (Experian would not need to go back beyond this one-year period). Please let me know if Experian will so agree, subject to this limitation, and we will work out a reasonable timetable for production. Have a good weekend.

Matt
